State Attorney, Sheriff Seek Help from Public to Enforce New Law Targeting Antisemitism

What: State Attorney Dave Aronberg and Sheriff Ric Bradshaw will hold a press conference to ask the public to help authorities bring criminal charges against individuals who spread antisemitic messages in the community. This enforcement comes under a new state law that targets littering, trespass and projecting unauthorized images on private property, or otherwise harassing or intimidating people based on their religious or ethnic heritage.

When: Tuesday, September 19 from 11 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.

Location: State Attorney's Office, 2nd floor conference room, 401 North Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach.

Joining State Attorney Aronberg will be a representative from the office of state Rep. Michael Caruso, who last spring sponsored the public nuisances legislation, House Bill 269, which subjects violators to be prosecuted for misdemeanors and felonies.

Please RSVP to the above email address to confirm your attendance.
